Languages, Linguistics and Development Practices Jul 07 2021 This edited book presents case-studies and reflections on the role of languages and their analytic study in development practices across four regions: Africa, Asia, Australia, and the Pacific. The authors highlight the importance of conceptual studies of languages and cultures, as well as language choice, for enhancing development practices, demonstrating the value that language analysis and the humanities can add to the already multi-disciplinary field of Development Studies. The chapters draw on the fields of linguistics, human geography, education, diverse economies, community learning, sociology, and anthropology, and topics covered include some significant areas of interest to sustainable human development: education, work, finances, age, gender; as well as a key approach to development (asset-based community development). Chapters on informal adult learning provide opportunities to explore how and why language and linguistic analysis is relevant to development projects. The volume aims to promote collaboration and interdisciplinary dialogue and should be of interest to academics, practitioners and students of language and development, and to those working in the field of development globally.

History and Religion Dec 12 2021 History is one of the most important cultural tools to make sense of one's situation, to establish identity, define otherness, and explain change. This is the first systematic scholarly study that analyses the complex relationship between history and religion, taking into account religious groups both as producers of historical narratives as well as distinct topics of historiography. Coming from different disciplines, the authors of this volume ask under which conditions and with what consequences religions are historicised. How do religious groups employ historical narratives in the construction of their identities? What are the biases and elisions of current analytical and descriptive frames in the History of Religion? The volume aims at initiating a comparative historiography of religion and combines disciplinary competences of Religious Studies and the History of Religion, Confessional Theologies, History, History of Science, and Literary Studies. By applying literary comparison and historical contextualization to those texts that have been used as central documents for histories of individual religions, their historiographic themes, tools and strategies are analysed. The comparative approach addresses circum-Mediterranean and European as well as Asian religious traditions from the first millennium BCE to the present and deals with topics such as the origins of religious historiography, the practices of writing and the transformation of narratives.

transcend all artificial boundaries for we belong to one Universal Soul. This oneness may be behind the enormous success of Sandipkumar Salunkhe's book. A semi-autobiographical account of the author's life it connects to the struggling rural youth and encourages them to surmount difficulties and achieve in life. The author has recorded the swinging graph of his life through different phases he experienced and his tireless efforts to realize his dream. He candidly talks about his own faults and shortcomings and how he removed them. Thus setting an example for others to follow—If I can—you can. Therefore, if you feel - life is stagnant, devoid of happiness. - you have dreams but lack direction or need guidance, - you lack confidence and self-esteem. - cannot overcome stress or dejection. - you are not inspired by stories of achievers because they belong to another environment. Then this book is for you and the sky is the limit!
